

AN EXPLOSION IN A HOME.

GETTING VOTES IN NEW YORK.

Man Is Killed Outright and His Wife Is Fatally Injured.

Registration Will Close in the Great Metropolis This Evening.

READING, Pa., Oct. 19.—One person was killed and one fatally injured by the explosion of illuminating gas in a dwelling house in this city today. Rudolph Hipp is dead.

Mrs. Florence Hipp, wife of the dead man, had an arm broken, both limbs crushed, the body bruised and burned and injured internally. She will die.

Gasoline Hipp was cut and twisted about the legs and body.

The house was full of gas last night, but the family did not occupy it. When they returned this morning Hipp lit a match near the collar wind-w-w and the explosion followed.

TURF MEN TO WITHDRAW.

GREAT FIRE AT SYDNEY.

Do Not Like the Expulsion of Lester Reiff From the London Turf.

One-Quarter of the Place is Now in Ashes and More Will Go.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—As a result of Lester Reiff's expulsion from the English Turf, an important withdrawal of American trainers and jockeys here is likely to occur in 1902. Enoch Wishard immediately cancelled all his English engagements after Reiff's expulsion and turned Richard Crocker and John A. Drake's horses out of training, declaring they would not enter an English race until Reiff was reinstated. While Higgins has had many offers to train in England next season, it is generally expected that he will follow Wishard's example.

As a matter of fact, few American owners have won much money in England this year.

Wm. C. Whitney won a number of rich stakes, and Edward Corrigan made a successful year, but Mr. Crocker and other Americans found that the handicapper was not handicapping horses but trainers, and the short odds of England rendered general success impossible. It is possible that Wishard will train in France during 1902.

By the retirement of Edward Weatherby Secretary of the Jockey Club and keeper of the records which occurred this week, the racing world loses a picturesque and altogether unique character. Poor health compels his resignation of an office which has always been filled by a Weatherby since it was created in 1769. It is probable that the present vacancy will be filled by another member of the same family, whose existence is almost concurrent with the history of the English turf.

STATE HAS MADE ITS CASE.

Witness Was Told That Goebel Was Going to Be Shot.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC HAS BEEN DELAYED.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 19.—Railroad traffic between this city and Stockton has been delayed today in account of the wreck of a freight train on Forest Lake, between Galt and Lodi. Six cars were derailed. The accident took place at 4 o'clock this morning. It is said that no one was injured. A wrecking train was sent from this city to clear away the debris.

DELEGATES ARRIVE FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 19.—Today's train brought many of the delegates and others who have attended the Triennial Convention of the Episcopal Church at San Francisco. Bishop Huntington and party arrived in the private car Olivette and took a trip to Catalina Island. Bishop Hall and a party of friends also reached Los Angeles this morning.

PERIOD OF MOURNING IS NOW AT AN END.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The period of official mourning for the late President ended at midnight last night, and today the flags on the White House and all the public buildings in Washington were raised to the top of their staffs.

MARY GEORGE IS GRANTED A DIVORCE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The State Department has been informed that W. H. Meally, the American citizen who has been lying in jail at Porfirio Diaz under commitment for contempt of court in withholding certain legal papers by a Mexican court, has been released on bail. The removal of the minor child was awarded to the plaintiff.

WOMAN IN BLACK

CASE CONTINUED.

The contest of Eleanor Bailey, known as the "Woman in Black," to the will of Seymour Atkins was continued today until next Friday at 10 o'clock, on account of the absence of several witnesses.

APPOINTED REGISTER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The President today appointed M. E. Elliott Register of the General Land Office at Camden, Ark.

KIEL & EVANS

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Carriages and Harness

Importers and Manufacturers—Goods direct from the manufacturer to the user—No middleman's profit. Salesrooms

958-960 BROADWAY, OAKLAND

Phone Main 517. Between Ninth and Tenth.

Address all orders to KIEL & EVANS, OAKLAND, CAL.

Write us for Catalogue and Prices.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

PICKETS ARE WATCHING PLANT

Notwithstanding the Order of the Court the Strikers Watch Men.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Registration for the municipal election in Greater New York on November 5 closes at 10 o'clock tonight, and both sides in the contest between Fusionists and Democrats are today devoting all their energies to getting their adherents to the registration booths. Neither side was satisfied with the showing made yesterday, and orders went out from both headquarters to urge every one of the known recalcitrants to record his name before night. The total recorded for the three days' registration ending last night was 562,299, which was 37,653 below the total for the same period last year. The record for the registration of 467,700, however, left nearly 45,000 behind by the complications completed last night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

justice, and as far as the

strikers are concerned, we will

not interfere with them."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Despite the fact that they were enjoined in the United States Court here yesterday from picketing the Allis-Chalmers plant and the Gates Iron Works, pickets representing the striking machinists watched these plants today as usual.

When the night pickets, numbering 500, left their stations at 6 A. M., they were replaced by a squad of twelve.

Business Agent Ireland of the machinists said:

"We shall continue to post our pickets upon them.

"The people are with us, if the law is on our side. Judge Kohlsaat is not.

"We will continue to demand

Oakland Tribune.

FREE TRADE A FAILURE.

President Roosevelt's announcement that if he could not find in the Republican ranks at the South men of the proper character and ability to fill the offices, he would appoint Democrats, has aroused a deal of speculation as to what the effect will be on the Republican and Democratic parties. There is much difference of opinion as to what prompted his declaration. Some Democratic papers appear to think it is the expression of a scheme to bribe with offices industrial Southerners heretofore connected with the Democratic party to attach themselves to the Republican organization. On the other hand, certain Republican leaders of the extreme partisan type imagine that the President intends to abandon the negro and the white Republicans at the South who have up to this time directed and controlled the party organization there.

Both these views do the President an injustice. The terms of his announcement show that his purpose is not to abandon anybody to build up anybody else. He is determined to have good men in the national service in the Southern States. This is the first requisite of good government. If this convinces the better class down there that the national Government as administered by the Republican party is not hostile to the wishes and interests of the people of the South both the country and the Republican party will be benefited.

The assumption that the Democratic recipient of an office is bribed thereby to change his political opinions and affiliations involves the idea that he is servile and corrupt. Manifestly such a man is unfit for high office. The assumption also carries the imputation that the President is using the appointive power, not to improve and elevate the public service irrespective of partisan expediency, but to purchase political support from a class hitherto hostile to his party. If this were true the President is lowering instead of raising the standard of fitness. It would mean nothing more than a very shabby bargain in which the President would figure to no better advantage than the other parties to it.

But Theodore is not that kind of a man. His whole record disproves it. He has never turned his back on a friend, and he has always been outspoken for honest men and clean methods. He has not forsaken the negro. On the contrary, he clearly understands that the negro's interests are best served and his protection better insured by placing the execution of the laws in the hands of high-minded men of dignity and character, and of standing in their respective communities who cannot be intimidated or swerved from their duty by local pressure or improper considerations. Evidently the President desires to fill the Federal offices of the South with men of this type—men of the South and identified with it by personal interest and association, and who have the respect and confidence of its people. Such men can exert enormous influence for good on the thought and action of the communities in which they reside.

The trust system has been a failure in Russia. This may be accounted for by the fact that under the autocratic form of government in existence there men of money do not feel like centralizing their wealth in a few places. It would mean too much of a temptation for the Czar, especially in view of his present hard-up condition.

Olive growers of the State are talking of organizing for the protection and betterment of the industry. It should be an easy task to bring these interests together, for unlike the prunes and raisin men who are always fighting among themselves, they keep the olive branch waving all the time.

One development leads to another. In boring for oil in a wide section of Texas artesian water was struck in many places where it had not been suspected hitherto. Many of the artesian streams thus developed will be utilized for irrigation and other purposes.

Marconi is now at work trying to advance the mileage limit at which his wireless messages can be received. It is possible, therefore, that we may soon be able to exchange greetings with our friend of childhood's days—the man in the moon.

Pears'

What is wanted of soap for the skin is to wash it clean and not hurt it. Pure soap does that. This is why we want pure soap; and when we say pure, we mean without alkali.

Pears' is pure; no free alkali. You can trust a soap that has no biting in it, that's Pears'.

Established over 100 years.

CONDUCTORS TO ACT AS POLICEMEN

Southern Pacific Company Is Taking Advantage of the New Law.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company is availing itself of the new law providing for the appointment of special policemen to preserve peace and protect property on its cars and steamers. Several such policemen have been under commission for several months on the broad gauge ferries and the picnic train leaving this city and San Francisco on week days.

It is the intention of the company to confer all its conductors police authority, and with that purpose in view it has just sworn in eleven of the sixteen conductors who run on the Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda lines.

The oath was administered by Attorney J. L. McVey, who is also a notary. The conductors sworn in are R. L. Gaume, A. B. Cole, S. W. Jones, A. Buchanan, A. T. Trathan, G. A. Carpenter, M. Morris, D. P. Murphy, R. R. Owen, C. Fullister and J. H. Liddle.

The swearing in will continue until all the conductors shall have been enrolled in the force. Under the law, every such special officer, when on duty, must wear in plain view a shield bearing the words "Railroad Police" or "Steamboat Police" as the case may be, and the name of the company for which he is commissioned.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SUPERIOR COURT.

John Gieser has filed a notice of appeal to the Supreme Court over the decision lately rendered by Judge Greene declaring that the defendant has no right to property mortgaged to him by the former husband of the plaintiff, on account of a homestead existing thereon.

F. T. Nioletti, guardian of Cathleen, C. H. Drummond has filed his final account, which has been accepted and the guardian discharged.

A motion to appoint a receiver for the property mortgaged to Allen A. Young as security for a loan of $3,114 has been filed by the mortgagor. Suit is now pending for the foreclosure of the mortgage.

Judge Ellsworth has handed down a decree of foreclosure in the suit of the Continental Building and Loan Association against Henry Winters Drew and Delta Drew. The mortgaged property in question is in Brooklyn Township, and was given as security on a loan of $34,157.

Attorney John D. Whaley has filed a notice that he will appeal for the reversal of the decision of the Superior Court, A. Mordendo, defendant in a suit instituted by Sebastian Franz, and recently decided in his favor. A stipulation has been made granting forty days for the perfection of an appeal.

BROWNIES WILL BE AT THE DEWEY.

The children as well as the grown people of Oakland will be delighted to know that Manager Stevens of the Dewey Theater has consented to give up four of his afternoons for the presentation at his house of the popular and beautiful operetta by Palmer Cox, "The Brownies in Fairyland," which lately made such a success at the Alhambra Theater in San Francisco. The cast will be the same in every particular that appeared at that house. Over two hundred children will participate. In every particular the performance will excel anything ever given in America, as all the scenery, costumes and stage effects are entirely new. In the present production there are thirty original specialties of an up-to-date character and seven beautiful ballets which have been seen before any stage in America. There are few people that are not familiar with Palmer Cox's Brownies. They have always been the delight of the children and grown folks for years, and society for the past three years put the seal of its approval upon their production given at the various houses in San Francisco and throughout the country. The first matinee will be given on Saturday, October 27; the other others on Sunday, October 28; Monday, October 29, and Tuesday, October 30; at the popular prices of 10, 25 and 50 cents.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Although the great Episcopal Convention has adjourned, Oakland will be favored tomorrow morning by a visit from the Eastern prelates, Bishop F. R. Millsbaugh of Kansas, who comes as the preacher at the 11 o'clock service at St. John's Church, corner of Eighth and Grove.

The service will be of unusual musical interest. B. Lillard Setby's Anglican Mass in F. will be sung for the first time in Oakland. The vested choir of forty men and boys will be supported by an orchestra of six pieces, piano and organ. The orchestra is composed of well known Oakland players, as follows: Dr. J. M. Kendal; second violin, Mr. Joseph Kendal; first violin, Dr. J. M. Hader; violin, Eugene Colby; H. H. Brueh, cello; Messrs. Comfort and Leber, flute and clarionet; Herbert Masters, piano; Mr. John de P. Teller, organist and choirmaster of the church, will direct. For the offertory, Gounod's beautiful anthem, "By Babylon's Wave" will be sung for the first time in St. John's with full orchestral accompaniment. The rector of the church, Rev. M. N. Ray, will be the celebrant at the 11 o'clock service and Bishop Millsbaugh will deliver the sermon as above noted. Choral even song will be sung by the choir at 7:30 p. m., the preacher being the Rev. Stewart Smith, rector of St. Mary's Church, Kansas City.

H. G. WALKER'S LECTURE.

H. G. Walker, a local attorney, delivered a lecture before the Socialists' Labor party last evening.

Jackson's Napa Soda is a pure, sparkling mineral water flowing to the surface from beneath bed rock.

I Take Pleasure

In announcing that after an association of several years with the National Cash Register Company in the floral and seed business, I have opened an establishment of my own at 133 Washington street and respectfully solicit the patronage of the

SAMUEL K. LOVE.

FOR SALE

National Cash Register. A bargain. H. Schellhaas, corner 11th and Franklin Sts.

Established over 100 years.

KAHN BROS., N. E. TWELFTH AND WASHINGTON STREETS, OAKLAND

ANNIVERSARY SALE

Begins Monday

Eight years ago next week this great store opened its doors in a comparatively rural street which has since risen to be Oakland's main thoroughfare. At that time there existed in many minds a doubt—but never in our own, as to the success of our venture. Our then fourteen years before the public taught us that good store keeping would be appreciated—storekeeping which never permitted that a customer suffer disappointment; where an error would be gladly corrected; where goods were offered at the lowest margin; where a low price never meant a doubtful quality.

Sale Continues the Entire Week

It shall be our aim to give you a thoroughly satisfactory store—as good and nearly perfect as we can make it. To this end we solicit your criticisms and suggestions, for this is your store as well as ours, and we mean to so conduct it that you will take a personal pride in the always busy store.

Next week wonderful buying opportunities in all departments of the store. Here are some of the strong and unusual bargains awaiting you. Sale begins Monday and continues all week.

Anniversary Week in the Drapery and Curtain Department that will make things hum.

RAINY-DAY SKIRTS of gingham, plaid, back, button stitched, value three fifty, come in brown, blue and grey mixtures; sale price..... 1.98

RAINY-DAY SKIRTS, same thing in Cheviot, with white stripes in cloth, blue and Oxford; value four dollars; sale price..... 2.98

AXMINSTER UGGS—Oriental, Persian and flowered designs, SIZES—27x60, usual three dollars; anniversary sale price..... 1.98

DRESS SKIRTS—Serge Skirts trimmed with stitched silk band, flounce at bottom, black and navy, regular price, $3.50; sale price..... 2.98

CURTAINS—muslin ruffled, 3 yards long, 40 inches wide, 76 pairs, values up to one fifty; anniversary sale price..... 98c

FLARE SKIRTS of all wool serge in navy and black, six rows of stitched buttons over the seams, regular price six dollars; sale price..... 4.48

Flare Skirts of Venetian cloth, handsomely trimmed with satin bands, black, navy, royal and tan; regular price, $8.50; sale price..... 6.48

FLOUNCE SKIRTS—of broadcloth in black, handsomely trimmed with stitched satins, a fine quality of broadcloth, our regular ten dollar skirt. Sale price..... 7.48

CHILDREN'S CASHMERE HOSE—1x1 rib, all wool, size 5 to 5 1/2, double knee, heel and toe, warranted fast black, usual thirty five cents; anniversary sale price..... 98c

LADIES' HOSE—40 gauge, black cotton, white foot, seamless, double heel and toe, usual twenty cents; anniversary sale price..... 79c

FLARE SKIRTS—for this sale, we've put out a line worth from twelve fifty to fifteen dollars; to be sold at..... 10.98

27 INCH LENGTH JACKETS—all the fall shades, made of the very best Kersey, lined in first-class style and finish, velvet collars, a garment bought to sell at thirteen fifty; sale price..... 10.00

Some splendid values also at 6.50 and 4.50

42 INCH LENGTH JACKETS, a lot of novelties, splendid Kersey cloth, worth $2.50 to $27.50, in tans, castor and black, sale price..... 20.00

Some splendid jackets this length at a lower price.

47 INCH LENGTH RAGLANS, all the fall shades, made of the very best Kersey, lined in first-class style and finish, velvet collars, a garment bought to sell at thirteen fifty; sale price..... 10.00

Some splendid values also at 6.50 and 4.50

21 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual eight; during sale..... 6.72

23 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one dollar; during sale..... 6.72

25 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one twenty-five; during sale..... 7.40

27 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 8.80

39 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 9.80

42 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 10.98

45 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 12.40

47 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 13.98

50 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 15.48

52 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 17.98

54 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 19.48

56 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 21.98

58 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 24.48

60 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 26.98

62 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 29.48

64 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 31.98

66 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 34.48

68 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 36.98

70 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 39.48

72 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 41.98

74 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 44.48

76 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 46.98

78 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 49.48

80 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 51.98

82 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 54.48

84 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 56.98

86 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 59.48

88 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 61.98

90 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 64.48

92 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 66.98

94 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 69.48

96 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 71.98

98 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 74.48

100 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 76.98

102 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 79.48

104 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 81.98

106 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 84.48

108 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 86.98

110 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 89.48

112 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 91.98

114 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 94.48

116 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 96.98

118 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 99.48

120 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 101.98

122 inch BLACK TAFFETA, usual one fifty; during sale..... 104.

Woodward, Watson & Co.
SUCCESSORS TO WILLIAM J. DINGEE
Real Estate Auctioneers

AT AUCTION
SPECIAL CREDIT SALE OF
38 38 38 38

Choice Residence Lots

Facing West Street,
Market Street,
35th Street and 36th Street

Saturday, Nov. 2nd, 1901

AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

At Salesroom, 903 Broadway

These lots are surrounded by new homes and more are in course of construction.

The street work is complete. Terms only 1-5 Cash; remainder in easy installments.

Carriages at office for inspection of property. Office open evenings by appointment.

Installment or flat loans negotiated for home-builders.

TITLE ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

For Catalogues and Other Particulars Apply to Woodward, Watson & Co.

SUCCESSORS TO WILLIAM J. DINGEE

Real Estate Auctioneers

903 Broadway, Oakland.

ITALIAN BAND

AT UNITARIAN.

Popular Organization Will Play

Two Nights in Oakland.

The Royal Italian Band will give two performances in Oakland at the First Unitarian Church next Monday and Tuesday evenings. It is said to exceed Sousa's band. Concerning the band the Philadelphia North American says:

"The Steel Pier is the contest resort in all Atlantic City. If you want to forget that there is such a thing as heat go leisurely out to the oceanward end at any hour of the day and lounge in one of the easy chairs, which you will find there in great abundance. Such a refreshing air! And then the cool sound of the surges, heaving and sighing, and singing, with cadence and pauses, under your feet!"

CHANNING ELLERY, MANAGER OF BAND.

"You can be as near to or as far away from Creatore's Band of musicians as you like. You can have the melody and the changeable harmonies steal upon you softly, or you may have them come to your ear full-voiced and strong, with the pulse of throbbing mastery. Or you can compromise between those effects."

"Priest's Napa" is what you want for a table water. Leave orders at 380 13th street.

COBBLER SEAT.

Rockers, parlor and dining chairs, at Schellhaus' corner store, 11th st.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN SAN FRANCISCO.

CONTEST FOR MAYOR IS WARMING UP ACROSS THE BAY — GROVE JOHNSON IS A CANDIDATE FOR SUPERIOR
JUDGE OF SACRAMENTO COUNTY.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Which of the two is Schmitz going to beat—Wells or Tobin? That is the question that is interesting politicians hereabouts just now, for in view of the vigorous campaign being made for the labor candidate by the Examiner and the way he and his friends are scouring the city for votes it seems certain that he will cut a big figure at the polls on election day.

Off-hand it looks as if Schmitz will break more into Tobin's vote than into that of Wells. His main reliance is south of Market street, where the poorer elements of wage-earners reside, and as that is the section where the heavy Democratic vote is always cast, Tobin must perform figure that inroads will be made there into his party following. Then, again, Schmitz is doing his electioneering along the exact lines that in the past have been successful for Democratic candidates, for he is invading the groceries, corner groceries, steam beer saloons and all other like places where voters congregate.

As against this, Wells relies upon the strength shown by the Republican party at the last general election and also upon the occasion of the recent tussle at the primaries. He is figuring too, that the Republican sentiment that has been so pronounced here for the past couple of years will be enhanced by the murder of McKinley, for although no one wants to identify the Democrats with the crime, it is but reasonable that a sympathetic feeling should be created for the party that lost its leader in such a way.

The proposed McKinley memorial, the trappings of mourning that have been in evidence everywhere, and the endorsement of the principles for which the President died are all considered as lending strength to the Republican cause, so although there are no direct party issues involved in a municipal election, Wells thinks that he will get the benefit of the prevailing sentiment.

It is not all smooth sailing with him, though. He has got a lively fight on his hands in the School Department, and furthermore an attempt is being made to whisper him to death upon saloon issues. The story has gone out that he is strongly inclined towards temperance and would therefore be disposed to favor measures of the high license nature. Of course, Wells and his friends are vigorously denying all this, but the mischief is done when the story is told, for even endorsements by the Saloon Keepers' Association do not satisfy some people when later on the task of disproving the assertions is essayed.

WHERE TOBIN COMES IN.

As for Tobin, his principal reliance seems to be that he is making a young man's fight as against that of an old man. His name counts for a great deal in the Irish quarter, and then there is the mighty influence of the Hibernia Bank which must be measured from the standpoint of the professional people who do business with it in the line of borrowing money on mortgages and so forth, as well as that of the army of depositors. Another point that is being advanced in his favor is as to the sporting element. Tobin is the Supervisor who made the fight to open the Ingleside race track, and this, it is claimed, will secure for him a large percentage of the 23,000 votes that were cast for the poolroom ordinance last year. If Tobin were pitted alone against Wells he would undeniably have a big chance to win, but with Schmitz eating up much of the normally Democratic territory, it looks as if Wells has the advantage of the situation, and at the present writing it would be safe to prophesy that he would win by 2,500 votes at least.

There is no telling, though, what surprises may crop up between now and election day. For example, the Examiner, which at first was not any too pronounced in Tobin's favor, is gradually swinging towards him, and many think that it may yet be found putting up a red-hot fight in his behalf. There can be no question that the Examiner people would like to get back safely into the Democratic fold, for as it has been fighting one section of its party and in addition has had to meet the charges made against it in connection with the Czolgosz affair, it has its hands full just now. Should, however, a move be made that would put it in its former prominent standing with those handling the local machinery of the Democratic party, it would be in excellent shape again and that is the condition many think will be brought about.

The way this could be worked out would be by the withdrawal of Schmitz, which would not be as hard a proposition as might be imagined. For example, at the eleventh hour he could come out with a statement to the effect that the necessities that brought about the creation of a labor ticket have passed away and that it is a bad policy for wage-earners to engage in practical politics, but that they should, instead, support the party that is doing the most in their interests. In return for this a deal could be made with Tobin whereby in the event of his election Schmitz would be appointed Commissioner of Public Works, where he would be in a position to help the laboring elements. All of this is merely speculative, but as the Examiner controls Schmitz, it is mentioned as a way in which it could bring itself into full favor with the Democratic machine again.

As regards the rest of the ticket, the impression prevails that representatives of both sides will win. Some of the Democratic nominees for Supervisor are personally popular, as are also many of those named by the Republicans, and in all these instances their present places. It is possible that either Hughes or Shields may take a shy at a Supreme Court nomination, for they both have aspirations in that direction.

GROVE JOHNSON FOR JUDGE.

It will come as a surprise to many people to hear that Grove Johnson has forsaken legislative nominations for next year and intends to seek a place on the ticket as candidate for Superior Judge. The comparatively small vote he polled in his Assembly run last year makes those in control of affairs chary about getting him in such a fight again, so as he has expressed a desire for judicial honors, he will be given a chance in that direction.

All through the State these judgeship fights are going to cut an important figure, for they not only have a great deal of effect upon local issues, but they also extend into legislative channels and even to the State ticket. Most of the judges endeavor to keep themselves free from factional trouble and to steer a neutral course, where they will not have to contend with antagonisms from either side, but it is a mighty hard thing to do, as nearly every active politician takes a positive stand sooner or later.

This same condition is extending to the gubernatorial fight, for Gage and Flint have mutual friends who will be compelled to take sides before many more months pass. Gage has got a big handicap over his opponent in this regard, for the forces of the administration are of a positive nature and scare many a man into lining up on that side of the fence. Up to date, therefore, Flint has had to console himself with second choice promises in quarters where, but for the power of the State machine, he would undoubtedly have come first. He is content to peg along, however, in that way, and at the present time is more interested in preventing any other candidate from breaking in. For example, the Call, the other day, came out strongly for Preston for Governor, and although there is no possible chance for him to get the nomination, fight is likely to be waged in his interests that will negatively do Flint a great deal of harm.

THE JUSTICES INVOKED.

Without doubt, though, the contests that will have the most effect upon the gubernatorial race are those of the aspirants for the Supreme Bench, for a candidate for that position is compelled to make a State wide canvass, and hence is bound to be brought into contact with the friends of the gubernatorial rivals. When it comes down to a question of tying up, therefore, he is bound to land with one side or the other, and that is where the rub comes in that no one can avoid.

Although there have been no positive declarations on the subject to date, to an onlooker it would appear that Deatty will be on the Gage end of the fight and Garrouette with Flint, that Sweeney of Shasta and Oster of San Bernardino will also be friends of the administration and that Shaw of Los Angeles will incline towards the Flint standard. It is plain now why Judge McKinley of Los Angeles would not run for the Supreme Bench, despite the predictions of those who watched the interest he took in the Governor's affairs, for that in sooth was the very reason he kept out. With McKinley and Gage both seeking top places on the ticket, one or the other would have to fall, and as McKinley is primarily interested in the Governor's re-election, he can well afford to stand in the background and wait four years longer, when the coast will be clear.

It is this reason, too, that makes it appear that Judge Oster of San Bernardino will get the machine strength behind him when the right time comes, for he is located in just the part of the State where the honor could easily be directed. This is the condition of affairs in that regard. South of Tehachapi is sure to get one of the three Supreme Court nominations, for with Beatty and Garrouette both struggling for the Chief Justiceship, that will leave one Associate Justice's place vacant, while as for the other, friends of Harrison say that he has informed them that he does not care to seek the nomination again. With two places on hand, therefore, the Southern country cannot be denied one of them, for up to date that part of the State has apparently been discriminated against as far as Supreme Court honors go.

LOOKING OVER THE FIELD.

Now, then, where is the Southern candidate to fall from? That perennial aspirant, Judge Bill Williams of Ventura, cannot seek it this time, for he has got all he can attend to in trying to hold on to his present position on the Superior Bench, ex-Senator Orr being engaged in a vigorous canvass for his official shoes. In San Diego county it would hardly be possible to develop an acceptable candidate, for between them, Spreckels and Grant control the situation, and any man they might name would be fought to a finish by the Burns-Gage combination. In Los Angeles county, for the reasons already stated, the administration will not back anybody, while as for Riverside and Orange, they are not prominent enough to be awarded the prize.

This, therefore, brings the matter to a focus in San Bernardino county, and as Judge Oster has been at work for a couple of years to land the nomination, he is in a position where he can reasonably expect the support of the powers that be. He has got a local proposition to clear out of the way first, though, for A. G. Kendall, the present County Assessor, wants to run for the State Board of Equalization, and the delegation cannot consequently be put up for both of them. The Judge has put in most of the present week in town endeavoring to straighten out this phase of his canvas, and if he succeeds in doing so he will be well within reach of the nomination.

The Senatorial and Congressional fights in that section of the State will also cut a considerable figure, especially so the latter, for the district is a new one without any of the present Congressmen residing in it. While there are several candidates in sight, there is no one who is really a favorite. The delegation all I could ask and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and promptly bought a five cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, is greatly improved. I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

JOHNSON DOES

NOT CONCUR.

Says Supt. McClymonds' Claim

Will Not Stand in the Law.

WORK DONE

ON THE STREETS

Supt. Ott Makes a Showing For the Money He Has Expended.

The following is the official report of the street work done by Superintendent of Streets Ott, and the deputies under him, since July 1st:

Bridge at Broadway and Forty-fourth streets; bridge at north-western arm of Lake Merritt; bridge over culvert at Sixth street and San Pablo avenue; new culvert at Thirty-eighth and Telegraph avenue; new culvert at Shattuck and Alcatraz avenues; two new culverts; Telegraph avenue and Alcatraz avenue; new culvert, Fifty-ninth street, near San Pablo avenue; new culvert, Piedmont avenue and Booth street; new crosswalk, Alcatraz and San Pablo avenues; new culvert, Howe and Moss avenues. New culverts have been placed at the following intersections of streets: Tenth and Wood, Ninth and Willow, Eleventh and Campbell, Eleventh and Peralta, Sixteenth and Peralta, two at Sixteenth and Willow, two at Fifth and Center, Seventeenth and Center, Eighteenth and Peralta, Eighteenth and Peralta, Fifth and Lewis, Fifth and Henry, Chase and Willow, Fifth and Campbell, Nineteenth and Market, Twenty-sixth and West, Fifteenth and Peralta, Broadway and Oregon, Fourteenth and Magnolia, Thirteenth and Market, Thirteenth and Tyrone, Twenty-fourth and Linden, Thirteenth and Brush, Seventeenth and West, Twentieth and San Pablo, Twenty-third and San Pablo, Twenty-first and San Pablo, Milton and San Pablo, Thirty-fourth and San Pablo, Fifteenth and Castro, Twenty-seventh and San Pablo, Twelfth and Peralta, Sixteenth and Peralta, Fifth and Webster, Fifth and Jackson, Eighth and Alice, Eleventh and Alice, Thirteenth and Alice, Eleventh and Webster, Tenth and Harrison, two at Webster and Orchard, Ninth avenue and East Eleventh street; Eighth avenue and East Eleventh street, Tenth avenue and East Seventeenth street, Fifth avenue and East Seventeenth street, one at Sixth avenue and East Eighteenth street, Thirteenth and Castro, Brush and San Pablo, Thirteenth and Harrison, Eleventh and Webster, Fourteenth and Harrison, two at Thirteenth and Madison, Eighteenth and San Pablo, Fourteenth and Grove, Fourteenth and Jefferson, Webster, Ninth and Madison, Ninth and Castro, Tenth and Harrison, Ninth and Madison, Fourteenth and Jefferson, Seventh and Webster, two at Seventh and Jefferson, Eleventh and Harrison, Webster, Thirteenth and Brush, Tenth and Webster, Thirteenth and Castro, two at Sixteenth and Willow.

He also declared that he would hold City Treasurer Taylor responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

City Attorney Johnson holds in effect that Mr. McClymonds is wrong and that the city still has the right to appropriate money, not otherwise disposed of, to any fund which may strike its fancy. The Council, however, has not the power to re-allocate money which has once been apportioned to the School Fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund. The Council, however, cannot be held responsible for the disposition he may make of funds under the authority of the ordinance of the City Council.

He also declared that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his understanding of the law, should go to the school fund.

Mr. Johnson also held that he would hold the city responsible for the diversion of any money which, under his

MEDDLER TELLS OF THE EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

SOME INTERESTING ENGAGEMENTS AND WEDDINGS RECORD-ED DURING THE WEEK—MISS MOORE WILL MAKE HER DEBUT IN SOCIETY.

The week has been a busy one, mostly on the religious side, and "anyone as is anyone" has had the legs of a bishop or two under his mahogany. And how the churchmen have enjoyed the flesh pots garnished as only the Californians know how to garnish them, and tempting enough to prove the downfall of any prelate. If the Bishop of Honolulu, whose lower limbs in thin English small clothes look like pipe stems, should remain here long enough, I fancy that even he would grow plump and comfortable and rotund. Still, if he can resist the fattening influence of poi and the succulent alligator pear, I expect he could resist the blandishments of our roast beef and mutton. Perhaps he is like a certain young matron of Oakland, who thinks it vulgar to be plump and distingue to be lean, and, therefore, starves herself until she has lost what youthful prettiness she once possessed and looks as woebegone as though her husband beat her. In evening dress she is an absolute fright—a perfect bug of bones.

The most generous entertaining on behalf of the bishops has emanated from Highlands, whose master and mistress are more than hospitable. I told you last week about the tug party which came so coolly and delightfully on one of the hottest days so that lunching on the open deck was possible. But I did not tell you the names of the distinguished people who made up the guest list of Mr. and Mrs. Requa and Colonel and Mrs. Long on that important occasion. Only a few Oakland people were invited on the General Slocum, but these, with the Requas and the Longs, constituted themselves a committee of entertainment and made themselves agreeable to the visitors, explaining everything about the bay as they went along. All the Californians were true entertainers in the best sense of the word. Mrs. Abbott and Miss Mollie Conners were among the guests from Oakland, and they were especially helpful. The Eastern guests were Rt. Rev. George Herbert Kinsolving, Bishop of Texas; Rt. Rev. Lucian Lee Kinsolving, Missionary Bishop of Brazil; Mr. William W. Frazer, Philadelphia; George C. Thomas, Philadelphia; Rev. Herman L. Duhring, Philadelphia; Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Whitaker, Philadelphia; Mrs. Thomas Neilson, Miss Clara Moorehead, Miss Mary Coles, Mrs. P. H. Asbridge, Miss Banners, Miss Norris, Mrs. Henry Justice, Mr. and Mrs. E. Walter Roberts, Miss Lewis, Misses Alice and Margaret Bedine, Mrs. William W. Parr, all of Philadelphia; Miss McVickar, Providence, Rhode Island; Miss Clara Moorehead, Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Frederick Morris and Miss Margaret E. Morris, Villa Nova, Pennsylvania; Mrs. E. Walter Roberts, New York; Rev. Joshua Kimer, D. D., New York. Bishop and Mrs. Whitaker were, of course, the guests of honor.

Early in the week Mr. and Mrs. Requa entertained number of prominent churchmen and church women at dinner. Everything was in pink, from flowers to lights, and the dinner was very charming in its appointments and menu. Those who sat at table beside the host and hostess were Bishop and Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Neilson, Miss Clara Moorehead, Rev. Herman Duhring, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, and from around the bay, Mr. James Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Irish, Mrs. W. E. Hale, Miss Sadie Hale, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rulston, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Taft, and Colonel and Mrs. Long. On Friday of this week Mrs. Requa gave another tug party to Eastern friends, and later in the season she will give a tug party to one of the debutantes of San Francisco.

Today there will be a christening at Highlands. Bishop Whitaker, who has been in Nevada, has now returned and will christen the youngest child of the Mark Requas at Highlands. All of the Long and Requa children were christened at Highlands, and all were born there except the heroine of this present christening. Bishop Whitaker christened Mark Requa, for the Whitakers and the Requas lived on the Comstock when there were exciting times there. Bishop Whitaker has known Mrs. Requa from the time she was a child, at the Richelieu in San Francisco.

The Moore next Saturday will be an exceedingly brilliant affair, quite as gay as the one when Carmen Moore made her first bow to society. This time it is Miss Jacqueline who is to be presented, and cards for the tea are eagerly sought after. Miss Jacqueline is a traveled girl, having been abroad with her brother and sister-in-law. She is intellectual—all the Moore girls are—and is very stylish as well. I consider her the flower of the family for good looks. She is already popular. The tea will be as brilliant as that New Year's function of last year, was it not?—when it poured tea and dogs, but we all had a splendid time in spite of it. Tea cups will be paid at the Richelieu in San Francisco.

TISSUE PAPER
And HEAVY TWINE
For LADIES' HATS.
E. C. BROWN PAPER
HOUSE
473 TENTH STREET
Bet. Washington and Broadway

where the Moores are going for the winter. The girls will have an exceedingly joyous time across the bay, for much is going on over there. The Moores have but one more daughter, after Jacqueline, and as she is a very little school girl at Miss Horton's it will be years and years before they can present another debutante daughter.

Across the bay there was an elaborate tea on Friday at the Palace Hotel at which the engagements of the Misses Preston were announced. The eldest Preston girl was married last winter to Len Owens, and now the engagement of her two sisters are announced. Miss Edith Preston, the elder, is engaged to Willard Drown who is to be best man at the Curtiss-Adams wedding in this city and Miss Norma Preston, the younger sister, is betrothed to Washington Ames. Norma Preston is an exceedingly pretty girl and was to have made her debut this year but like the elder Hush girls she married instead. Her wedding, I understand, takes place a couple of months hence, but I have not yet been informed whether it is to be a double wedding or not. Some whispers of Miss Edith Preston's engagement to Mr. Drown were floating around before the Preston girls left with their mother for Europe, immediately after the marriage of their elder sister.

The luncheon given by Miss Sinclair at Level Lea this week was to have been given by Mrs. C. C. Clay but as she was detained at her country home through Major Clay's illness, Miss Sinclair took her aunt's place and played the hostess in her stead. The luncheon was in honor of Miss Josephine Chabot and Miss Lucy Moffitt, both of whose wedding days are approaching. Miss Moffitt, I believe is to be married within a few weeks. The luncheon was a delightful affair with some twenty young women as guests.

I forgot to say in connection with Miss Jacqueline Moore's coming out that she is likely to be a good deal feted this winter and to strip the laurels from some fair San Francisco brawns. Miss Katherine Dillon has already entertained her, having given a tea in her honor on October 15th when everyone went to meet Miss Jacqueline Moore.

The date for the Curtiss wedding has been set. It is to be the first Tuesday in November—November 5th which chances to be election day. Elaborate preparations are being made in the Curtiss home. The entire house is to be lit with electric bulbs as well as the marquis which is to be erected. The trouousse is done and every thing now approaches completion.

The old friends of Mrs. Olive Reed Cushman will be glad to know that she is receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter. The little girl was born on September 17th. Mr. and Mrs. Cushman are now living in Newark, New Jersey, where Mrs. Cushman has met with great success with her music. She sings in both the Congregational Church and the Jewish Synagogue and she will resume her work on November 1st. Mr. Cushman is in business in Newark.

Mrs. William Johnson of Merrimac street entertained a number of Bishops at dinner on both Monday and Tuesday evenings, but I did not hear the names of the guests. Both were very pretty little dinners.

A number of teas and luncheons have dotted the week, and a great many Oaklanders were present at the Scott-Crockett wedding, which was an ultra-fashionable one and a perfect fashion book for its display of new autumn frocks. I'm told that the sidewalk outside the church was lined with dressmakers getting points from other people's exclusive confections.

Quite a number of Fruitvale people were over, for the Crocketts used to live in Fruitvale years and years ago when the bride of Wednesday was a tiny girl. Mrs. Oscar Fitzalan Long I noticed among the guests. Her gown was an exceedingly swell one of tucked blue silk velvet made with hand-sewn lace. Her hat had a blue velvet crown and lace brim, with a long sweeping white plume about the brim.

The King's Daughters are working hard to raise a building fund. Their lease on the Oak street house shortly expires and as the house is filled to its capacity and is very useful they desire a permanent home which shall be large enough and suitable for their wants. Unfortunately, these things cost money and they have but one small bequest.

They are looking for some charitable man who wishes to immortalize his name by presenting a building site.

And now you really must excuse me for I'm dead stupid and tired tonight. Next week I'll try to be your inspired MEDDLER.

A DOUBLE MARRIAGE.

At the First Baptist Church, last Monday night, the double wedding in which the Johnson sisters became brides was celebrated, the ceremony beginning at 8 o'clock.

On that occasion Miss Maude Johnson became the bride of Victor A. Porter of San Francisco, and her younger sister, Miss Gertrude Johnson, blighted her troth to Arthur Caldwell of this city.

The brides are daughters of Mrs. Horace Mann Johnson and are accomplished girls, the elder being a graduate of the University of Nevada and the younger sister a graduate of California College of this city.

The Rev. C. H. Hobart of Pasadena, formerly of this city, officiated, assisted by the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. H. J. Vosburgh. Miss Ethel Maude Johnson was given away by her mother, and an aunt, Mrs. Charles Sumner Johnson of Alaska, performed the same office for Miss Gertrude Johnson. There were no attendants, John Patton and Charles Gullchrist officiating as ushers.

The ceremony at the church was witnessed by about 100 guests, immediate friends and relatives only having been invited. After the marriage service a reception was given in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. M. Johnson, at 3794 Piedmont avenue, where the wedding supper was also served.

The house was prettily decorated with ivy and pink cosmos, and while receiving congratulations the young couples stood in a bower of German ivy.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will reside at the Johnson home on Piedmont avenue, where they will receive their friends after November 1. Mr. and Mrs. Porter will make their home in San Francisco, where Mr. Porter is in business.

Mr. Caldwell is well known in Oakland, having since his graduation from the Oakland High School been employed as bookkeeper by the Oakland where the Moores are going for the winter. The girls will have an exceedingly joyous time across the bay, for much is going on over there. The Moores have but one more daughter, after Jacqueline, and as she is a very little school girl at Miss Horton's it will be years and years before they can present another debutante daughter.

Statue—The Sower
Bust—Mignon
Bust—Wagner
Vase—The Two Friends
Statue—La Loie Fuller, an electric
Vase—Tourbillon
Jardiniere—Fete de
Femme
Bust—Les Lilas a electric
Bust—Schubert
Statue—The Painter
Bust—Gladiator

Statue—Huntsman with Bow
Bust—Beethoven
Bust—Liszt
Bust—L'Aiglon
Bust—Chrysanthemes
Vase—Water-flowers
Vase—Adam
Vase—Eve
Vase—Fisher Boy
Jardiniere—Medusa
Bust—Ivy
Bust—The Victor's
Wreath

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19.

objects of art from Vienna

We are now displaying in our center Broadway window a number of Austrian terra cotta statues busts and vases imported in bond from Vienna. All are the work of artists of note. The exhibit includes:

Statue—The Sower
Bust—Mignon
Bust—Wagner
Vase—The Two Friends
Statue—La Loie Fuller, an electric
Vase—Tourbillon
Jardiniere—Fete de
Femme
Bust—Les Lilas a electric
Bust—Schubert
Statue—The Painter
Bust—Gladiator

Taft & Pennoyer

Broadway and Fourteenth

Bank of Savings. Mr. Porter is a graduate of Stanford University.

BALDWIN-ALEXANDER.

The marriage of Miss Anna Louise Alexander and Frank Baldwin was solemnized Monday at noon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alexander, on Willow street. The apartments were prettily decorated with pink and white cosmos, and during the ceremony the bridal couple stood beneath a large wedding bell of white cosmos and maidenhair fern. The Rev. Monroe Alexander, pastor of the Chester Street Methodist Church, officiated. The bride was attired in a gown of white organdie made over white silk and elaborately trimmed with fine tucks and narrow satin ribbons. The veil was held in place with orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of white carnations, tied with tulle.

Miss Camille Adney was maid of honor. She wore a pretty gown of white silk and carried pink carnations. William Ferguson attended the groom. The Wedding March from "Lohengrin" was played by Floyd Adney, a nephew of the groom. After congratulations, a wedding breakfast was served.

About thirty-five guests were present.

The bride is the only daughter of G. W. Alexander, who is a well-known mining engineer of Virginia City, Nev. The groom is in the employ of the Southern Pacific.

After the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will reside in Oakland.

MARRIED SIXTY YEARS.

Sixty years of married life were ended and celebrated in a most pleasant manner last Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Spencer, 2254 San Jose avenue, Alameda. The couple were married in Northfield, Indiana. The bride was then 18 and the groom 20 years of age. The wife is, therefore, now 78 and her spouse 80 years of age. On Monday evening about thirty friends of the bride and happy couple called at their home and tendered them a surprise party to commemorate the anniversary of their marital union. It was a joyous gathering and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were as jolly as the jolliest. Both old people are in excellent health and they entered into the spirit of the celebration with enthusiasm.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer had four children born to them, one of whom is dead. Those living are John A. Spencer of Phillipsburg, Mont., Mrs. Josie Yallup of Walla Walla, Wash., and Miss Ida Spencer of Alameda. They have four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer settled in St. Paul, Minn., in 1849 and settled there for forty years. They came to Alameda twelve years ago. Both are members of the Historical Society and the Old Settlers' Society of Minnesota.

BROWN-HUNTER.

Miss Ruby Hunter, a popular young lady, was married Saturday last to W. B. Brown. The wedding had been planned for some time in December, but on account of Mr. Brown's serious illness, his bride-to-be paid him a visit early in this month at Taylor, Shasta county, where they were quietly married. Rev. Fay Donaldson of that place, formerly of the Golden Gate Methodist Episcopal Church, performing the ceremony. Both the young people were originally of Livermore, where the bride's father is Postmaster, but Mrs. Brown has spent the last three years in Oakland. Mrs. Brown is a graduate of the San Jose Normal School, and is well known as a successful kindergarten teacher. Mr. Brown is interested in copper mines in Shasta county, where the young couple will make their future home and will receive their friends after November 1st.

SOON TO MARRY.

Captain Robert Peterson, formerly of this city, will shortly be married at Seattle to Miss Lillian Metha Peterson of this city. The bride-elect is a graduate of the Oakland High School, and took an advanced course of study at the State University. The honeymoon trip will be a voyage on the captain's vessel to Honolulu.

SANFORD-HITCHCOCK.

Miss Evelyn Grace Hitchcock and Ira Sanford were married last Wednesday evening in the Santa Clara Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Hugh Copeland officiated. Mrs. F. W. Hitchcock, mother of the bride, gave her away. Miss Rosabelle Mackie, Miss Jennie Merriam, Miss Edith Renne and Miss May Spencer attended the bride, who was attired in a dress of white organdie over silk. The quartet of bridesmaids wore costumes of pink

Miss Georgie Strong in honor of her sister, Mrs. Edward Campbell, was the occasion of bringing together a number of congenial friends who enjoyed the hours to the utmost. Miss Strong was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. J. C. Hampton, Mrs. Robert Lee Stephenson, Mrs. Will Meek, Mrs. Lewis Tashera, Mrs. George Randolph, Mrs. L. E. Nicholson, Mrs. Henry Atkins, Mrs. Walter Henry, Mrs. Charles Gardner, Mrs. Seth Mann, Mrs. Royal Macdonald, Mrs. James Gamble, Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Mrs. Thomas Phiby Jr., Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Newton Koser, Misses Viva Nicholson, Jane Rawlings, Ethel Kitteridge, Florence Starr, Ethel and Carmen Moore, Ellen Roberts, Emma Grimwood, Sara Calhoun, Sarah Collier, Mabel Gray, Mary Wilson, Ethel Valentine, Margaret Sinclair and Gertrude Vincent.

MANY PLAYED EUCHE.

There was a euchre party given in the latter part of last week by Miss Gertrude Allen at her home on Jackson street. It was in honor of Miss Rosalie Nalle of Austin, Texas. The competition in the games was keen and interesting, and among those who took part in it were Mrs. William Watt, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. Geo. Gross, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. William Cooke, Mrs. Irving Lundborg, Mrs. Beach Soule, Mrs. Oscar Gowling, Mrs. Peter Allen, Mrs. Montell Taylor, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Honolulu; the Misses Mabel Gage, Bertha McElrath, Viva Nicholson, Sadie Hale, Emma Grimwood, Carmen Moore, Mary Williams, May Coogan, George Lacey, Carolyn and Anita Oliver, Ella Sterett, Sue de Fremery, Ruth Dunham, Margaret Havens, Bleona Davenport, Gertrude Gould, Elsie Wenzelberger, June Jennings, Edith Selby, Kate Chabot, Antia Lohse, Blanche Sharon, Pauline and Genevieve Fore, Elisha Marwedge, Grace Sanborn, Maud Edith Pope, Ray Wellman, Ethel Valentine, Florence Hayden, Jane Crellin, Bessie Palmer, Galt and Clara Converse, Florence Hush, Irene Baker, Louisa Williams.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, when Miss Anna Brown became the wife of A. Holdridge of Solano. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father at 1828 Eighth street, the Rev. William Kelly of the First English Lutheran Church officiating. The decorations were entirely of pink roses and foliage, the bridal party standing under a cover of ferns erected in the drawing room. The bride was gowned in white organdie over white silk and was attended by Miss Ida Holdridge as maid of honor and gowned in blue organdie with touches of white, while Miss Laura Madsen and Miss Eleanor Esche were the bridesmaids and were gowned in blue organdie.

John Bloom of Solano, a cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The bride was given into the keeping of the groom by her father, Captain J. C. Brown. Later an elaborate wedding supper was served to the sixty-five guests present. After a wedding journey to the south the young people will live in Solano.

BUNCE-ROSS.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of C. Bunce at his residence, 325 Twenty-ninth street, when Miss Ethel Bunce became the bride of Robert Ross, Miss Mary Ross, a sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and Colbert Garrity as best man.

The bride was dressed in a fawn colored travelling suit, as the couple left immediately after the ceremony for the southern part of the State, where they will spend their honeymoon.

On their return in the spring the couple will reside in this city.

A MOORE AT HOME.

One week from today Miss Jacqueline Moore will make her debut in society. The event will take place at a reception which is to be held on that day from 3 to 7 o'clock P. M. Mrs. Moore will be assisted in receiving by Miss Ethel and Miss Carmen Moore and by a number of her friends, prominent society women, and the reception bids fair to be one of the most brilliant of the season.

The Moore family will be at home Monday in November at the Hotel Richelieu, San Francisco.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE FAIR.

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church will give its annual bazaar in Wendell Hall on the 7th, 8th and 9th of November. These bazaars are picturesque affairs. Some scheme is always to be carried out in detail.

This year a colonial scheme is planned. The women of the Alliance are all to be in colonial costume.

The fair will unquestionably be a grand success.

COMING BRIDES ENTERTAINED.

Miss Lucy Moffitt and Miss Josephine Chabot, two prospective brides, were guests of honor at Level Lea, Wednesday last, when Miss Margaret Sinclair acted as hostess. The table at the luncheon showed as dainty color scheme of pink. The guests were Mrs. Robert Lee Stephenson, Miss Mary Meux, Miss Kate Chabot, Mrs. Martin of New York, Mrs. Edward Hale Campbell, Miss Ruth Gardner, Miss Jane Rawlings, Miss Laura Crellin, Miss Ray Wellman and Miss Florence Hush.

KOHN-JONES.

Miss Josephine M. Jones, daughter of Captain J. T. Jones, master of the Ferry steamer Berkeley, was married in San Francisco Wednesday last to RAILROAD NEWS FROM THE WEST OAKLAND YARDS.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN'S TRAIN GOES OUT—NOTES ABOUT THE TRAINMEN—SHIPPING AT LONG WHARF—THE FREIGHT BUSINESS IS LIVELY.

The week's traffic in the West Oakland yards has been unusually heavy. The tracks have been cleared of their loaded cars, and the work is going forward with the normal snap and vim. The tie-up so narrowly averted during the strike has not left any trace, and hundreds of cars loaded with freight are daily being rushed to their various destinations.

Aside from the settlement of the strike, the motive power of the yards has been increased by the addition of four locomotives, Nos. 2018 from the Los Angeles Division; 448, from the Northern Division, and 1622 and 1623 from the Sacramento Division. With this additional motive power and without the disadvantages of a blockade, cars are being handled rapidly and on schedule time by the efficient corps of yardmen.

Another piece of work which is receiving a great deal of attention is the filling in of the portion of the bay just beyond the machine shops. There are 100 cars which are used exclusively in hauling the excavations of the tidal canal to the point of reclamation of the tidal land. At present there is only a day force at work, but in the near future a night force will also be put to work, to keep pace with the work of the giant shovel and facilitate the work of reclaiming the land, which will be used for extending the machine shops and yards.

A gang of men is already at work erecting poles and stringing wires along the proposed route of filling in. As soon as arrangements for light are complete a gang of men will be put to work.

Already the company is extending its buildings in the direction of the tidal land in the rear of the machine shops. A building for the accommodation of certain kinds of machinery has already been erected and others will shortly follow.

THE RAILROAD KING DEPARTS FOR THE EAST.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the railroad magnate and the world's financial king, left for the East in his own special train of six cars Thursday evening at 10:40. The party will go as far as Portland before they make a stop. Mr. Morgan will pay Portland a brief visit, after which he will leave for New York.

Master Car Repairer Englebright states that the special train bearing Morgan on his Eastern journey is one of the finest he has ever turned out of SICK MADE WELL WEAK MADE STRONG.

Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor Scientist That Cures Every Known Ailment.

Wonderful Cures Are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy is Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty records of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 165 First National Bank building, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out.

His theory is this: that he has advanced in a medical practice of sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remedy. He sends it free, to anyone who is a sufferer in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walk without aid after two trials of the remedy. The sick given up by home doctors have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. The rheumatism, sciatica, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fever, consumption, colds, asthma, consumption, rheumatism and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial cures, however, are not to be denied. Gout, rheumatism, ataxia, dropsy, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and nerves, and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great elixir.

The club has secured the old exposition building at the corner of Twelfth and Webster street and are remodeling the auditorium and turning it into a gymnasium with a raised platform, which will be used when exhibitions are given.

NEWSY PERSONAL HAPPENINGS GATHERED AT YARDS.

Agent J. W. Dickenson expects a very busy week in his department.

Chief Clerk W. W. Morrison is spending a vacation of a few days at his ranch near Rumsey.

Yardmaster J. H. Burham states that business has been on the increase since the end of the strike and that his department is under regular orders.

Charles Jacobs of the state house announces a period of comparative ease since the congestion of cars in the yards has been relieved.

James W. Wainwright of the freight office is said to be fulfilling his duties in an exceptionally fine manner, and it is possible some morning he may awake to find promotion awaiting him.

G. W. Luce has been promoted to general freight agent of the Pacific Division.

Paul Shoup has been appointed division freight and passenger agent with headquarters at San Jose.

Thomas A. Graham, heretofore division freight and passenger agent at San Jose, has been promoted to the position of assistant general freight agent with headquarters in San Francisco.

G. A. Parkyns has been promoted to the position of assistant general freight and passenger agent with headquarters at Los Angeles.

The train was comprised of the following special cars in the order named: Atlantic, Petruchio, Hollenden, Columbia, Genesta, and Alroy. Each car has a history, which if fully told would relate tales of the great and mighty steamers, railroad magnates, foreign princes and the distinguished personages of the world. Each car has carried its share of celebrities.

The car reserved for Mr. Morgan personally is the Genesta. It is in every way a model of elegance in car building and has been used by many distinguished people. It has carried Chauncey Depew, now United States Senator, but formerly president of the New York Central Railroad, in the freight boat, is reported to be on the sick list.

Bishop Hall, recently in attendance at the Episcopal Convention in San Francisco, has left for Monterey in his private car "Courier." He will visit all of California's famous watering places before he returns home.

G. C. Thompson, one of the directors of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, has left for the West in his private car "Philadelphia."

Engine 236 broke her side rod at the Sixteenth street depot a few days ago and is laid up in the shops for repairs.

Switch engine 1019 ran into a bunch of box cars Tuesday, and has been laid up for repairs since.

Michael Leary and Al Aiken are going on a vacation soon.

Engine 431 has broken her frame again in the same place where it was welded about three months ago.

Engines 1029 and 1042 have been turned into oil burners and are now at work in the yards.

Louis Amundsen is going to Los Angeles for his health.

Walter Fredericks of the machine shops has returned from Nevada, where he enjoyed fine hunting and also a visit to old friends.

Master Architect McLain is reported to be on the sick list.

Foreman R. Eickland is taking a temporary vacation. His position is being filled by Acting Foreman Riley.

B. M. R. will be promoted from the air room to the truck gang.

Joe Bivin and Joe Connors are going to Stockton for a week's pleasure trip.

GEORGE M. PERKINS IS THE VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

George M. Perkins, an employe of the car repairing department was seriously injured and probably fatally so, Friday morning at the Peralta street slip. He was standing at the end of a train of cars leaning against one of the cars. One of the switch engines bumped into the cars knocking Perkins down in front of the train. Three cars passed over him before the train could be brought to a stand still. While the wheels of the cars did not sever any of the unfortunate man's limbs, the brake beams and iron rods struck him, bruising his body terribly and breaking five ribs. As soon as aid could be summoned Perkins was taken to the Southern Pacific Company's Hospital in San Francisco and afforded the best medical attendance. It is a serious question whether or not the injured man will recover.

He resided at 1519 Eighth street with his son, George Perkins, Jr., who is employed at the California Sash and Door Works, San Francisco. The elder Perkins had been employed continuously for twenty-four years by the Southern Pacific Company.

This makes the fourth railroad accident on the local division within the week. Three of the victims have died of their injuries, and the life of the fourth is trembling in the balance.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS
GATHERED AT LONG WHARF.

The collier Matewan has finished discharging a cargo of coal.

The San Mateo is expected from Tacoma with a cargo of coal for the company on the 22d of the month.

The John A. Briggs is loading with lumber for Australia.

The Oregon is leading with doors from Red Bluff and the California Door Factory at Sixteenth street for Australia.

The Melanope will sail with a cargo of California sugar pine on Monday next for Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips have taken the residence of Frank Whitney on Laguna and Sacramento streets, San Francisco, for the winter.

Mrs. J. M. Driscoll will spend the winter in the Fairbanks home on Sacramento street, San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips have taken the residence of Frank Whitney on Laguna and Sacramento streets, San Francisco, for the winter.

The John A. Briggs is loading with lumber for Australia.

The Oregon is leading with doors from Red Bluff and the California Door Factory at Sixteenth street for Australia.

The Melanope will sail with a cargo of California sugar pine on Monday next for Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cannon announced the engagement of their daughter, Anna Belle, to Mr. F. Lawrence Sherman. The wedding will take place the latter part of November.

Grand Chief Lili Samuels and his wife, Deputy Margaret Chloupek, returned last night from a three-weeks trip to the North. They report the temples of Rathbone Sisters in a flourishing condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cannon, the young man of the Misses Emma F. and Grace Burgess will return to their departure from Oakland.

Mrs. William Hubbard, formerly Miss Katherine Peck, has gone to Milwaukee for a short visit to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips have taken the residence of Frank Whitney on Laguna and Sacramento streets, San Francisco, for the winter.

The John A. Briggs is loading with lumber for Australia.

The Oregon is leading with doors from Red Bluff and the California Door Factory at Sixteenth street for Australia.

The Melanope will sail with a cargo of California sugar pine on Monday next for Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cannon announced the engagement of their daughter, Anna Belle, to Mr. F. Lawrence Sherman. The wedding will take place the latter part of November.

Charles J. Clark, musician, whose residence is at 1281 Campbell street, was treated at the Receiving Hospital this morning for a severe cut over the right eye. Clark says that he slipped and fell, striking a jagged rock.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Michael Keay, Oakland 24
Katherine O'Connor, Oakland 23
George Edward Olsen, San Francisco 32
Jean Lillian Mills, San Francisco 32
Alfred Ernest Brune, San Francisco 21
Anna Adelheid Widemann, San Francisco 21
John Joseph Colbert, San Francisco 21
Catherine Connors, San Francisco 21
Charles Olson, Oakland 28
Jennie Hanson, Oakland 24
James Jacob Leutholtz, San Francisco 31
Helen Johnson, San Francisco 22

RUMMAGE SALE.

The East Oakland Free Kindergarten and the King's Daughters of Brooklyn Presbyterian Church will hold a rummage sale at corner of Thirteenth avenue and East Fourteenth street Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26. Any one having articles to donate please call up Vale 182 and a wagon will be sent for the goods Thursday.

TRAINMEN EXONERATED.

The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from shock, resulting from being struck by a train, at the instant held over Charles Fella, the 10-year-old boy killed Thursday at Adams' wharf. The trainmen were not held responsible for the accident.

INJURED HIS HAND.

James Tyler, a plumber, was treated at the Receiving Hospital this morning for a badly lacerated hand, received in a fall. Tyler resides at 326 Eighth street.

"Priest's Soda" will mix nicely with any good beverage.

Copyrighted.

JUST THE BEST OF MEATS

Go Right Down to San Pablo Ave

WELL, WHY NOT drop in and see us at our new place? We have a large variety of meaty faces, as well as delicious ones, and you will be glad that you called to see us.

Our wants will be courteously attended to, your purchases will please you, and you will go home and BE HAPPY.

O. C. NEWHALL CO. (INC.)

Tel. Main 363

Eastern Market 1561 Broadway San Pablo Ave., Oakland, Cal.

WHAT YOU WANT TO BE CURED OF AND THE REMEDY FOR WILL BE SENT YOU FREE BY RETURN MAIL.

DR. JAMES WILLIAM KIDD.

covered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out.

His theory is this: that he has advanced in a medical practice of sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remedy. He sends it free, to anyone who is a sufferer in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walk without aid after two trials of the remedy. The sick given up by home doctors have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. The rheumatism, sciatica, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fever, consumption, colds, asthma, consumption, rheumatism and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial cures, however, are not to be denied. Gout, rheumatism, ataxia, dropsy, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and nerves, and seem to have the endurance and vitality of a young woman of twenty, although I am twice that age. Husband, after seeing the change Postum has made, finally asked me not to make coffee for him any more, as he preferred Postum. It has been a Godsend to our family. Myra J. Fuller, 1233 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Particulars of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

Particulars of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most enthusiastic advocates. He is very sanguine of the future of the Club, believing that it will rank among the very best athletic institutions in the country.

A large number of the machinists who have become infected with Fredericks' enthusiasm and have announced their intention of joining the Club in the Acme Athletic Club and one of its most

BERKELEY

BOY SHOT IN BERKELEY HILLS. ATHLETES AT COLLEGE TOWN.

Was Out For a Walk When He Was Hit By a Spent Bullet.

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—Exhausted from loss of blood, and unable to walk, Robert Patterson, a youth residing on Channing way, was found in the Berkeley hills near Grizzly Peak yesterday afternoon by W. B. Greeley and C. Weaver a graduate and student respectively in the University of California.

The lad, who is 12 years of age, had been wounded in the left ankle by a spent bullet which came out of the lad's leg several inches above the point of entering.

Young Patterson had lain in a precarious condition several hours before being discovered. He was carried by the students to the residence of Dr. Wadsworth and subsequently removed to his home.

The wounded lad did not see the person who fired the missile. Greeley and Weaver were coming from a geological trip to Mount Diablo when they found the lad.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT BERKELEY HOME.

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—A superbly executed program was rendered at a musical held last evening by the pupils of Professor and Mrs. Max Maretzki, at the latter's studio, 228 Telegraph avenue. Following was the program:

Duet, "Live and Love Thee" (Campana), Misses Margaret Stevenson and Edna Morrow; baritone solo, "You" (Robyn); Ross Carter; piano duet, "Come Along With Me" (Webb); Miss Alice Faddegon; piano solo, "The Mietzki"; soprano solo, "When the Train Comes In" (Barney); alto solo, "When Love Was Young" (Faust); Miss Ethel Little; soprano solo, Going to Market, Miss Florence Jackson; vocal duet, "See the Pale Moon" (Campana); Misses Priscilla and Elma; tenor solo, "Holy City" (Adams); Miss M. H. Howard; piano solo, selected, Miss Clara Morrow; chorus, "Milk-maids' Song" (DeKoven); class, contralto solo, "Island of Dreams" (Adams); Miss Millie Redell; soprano solo, "Sweetheart" (Balfe); Mrs. Fred Lee; piano duet, "Qui Vive" (Jackson); Miss Hazel Johnson and Miss Dogkens; alto solo, "Astoria"; Miss Grace Slater; soprano solo, "The Girl in the Spire" (May); Miss Annie Dogkens; alto solo, "Nearer My God to Thee" (Holden); Miss Priscilla Lacey; piano solo, "Gypsy Dance" (Hunt); Miss Alice Yethers; soprano solo, "My Queen" (Pinsetti); Miss Alice Morris; soprano solo, "Venetian Boat Song" (Blumenthal); Miss Tolney; soprano solo, "Our troubadour"; Miss Ethel Lacy; piano solo, "Les Mamelles" (Wachs); Miss Hazel Johnson; soprano solo, "My Redeemer and My Lord" (Buck); Miss May Lee; chorus, "Bride's Maids' Chorus" (Sullivan); class.

MILITARY BALL IN HEARST HALL.

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—On the evening of November 2d the first annual military ball of the University Council No. 13, Knights of Pythias, will be given. The affair, which promises to be an elaborate social event, will be held in Hearst Hall.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE MEMORIAL FUND.

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—Following are today's subscription to the McKinley Memorial fund for the Dwight way school. Previously reported $125—Guy Hyde, $10; cash, 50 cents; Henry Blyth, $5; cash, 50 cents; cash, $1.

GIRL DEBATERS WILL HOLD A MEETING.

The first convention of the Girls' High School Debating League will be held in the common school assembly hall, Saturday, October 26. The association is made up from a score of high schools throughout the State, and is a newly organized society.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the debate meeting will be devoted entirely to business. In the evening there is to be a debate between the girls of the Oakland Evening School and those of the Lodi High School.

The delegates, of whom there will be 150, are to be entertained by the Oakland Evening High School Debating Society and the Girls' High School Society.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

Philadelphia Shoe Store
10 THIRD STREET,
San Francisco

HIGH CUT LACE SHOES FOR WINTER WEAR.

What awaits you have rubber coats, cloaks or umbrellas, if you allow your feet to become wet. The feet are generally neglected and that is why so many coughs and colds are contracted. Now, ladies, be sensible and wear shoes especially adapted for rainy weather and cool weather, on the feet and cool well. We are making a special offer this week. Ladies Kid-lined Vici Kid lace Shoes, 10 inches high, coin toes and tips, straight soles. Double soles and low military belts. Union stamped. Price reduced from $3.00 to $2.45. Sizes 2 1/2 to 8, widths A to E.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Philadelphia Shoe Store
10 THIRD STREET,
San Francisco

HIGH CUT LACE SHOES FOR WINTER WEAR.

What awaits you have rubber coats, cloaks or umbrellas, if you allow your feet to become wet. The feet are generally neglected and that is why so many coughs and colds are contracted. Now, ladies, be sensible and wear shoes especially adapted for rainy weather and cool weather, on the feet and cool well. We are making a special offer this week. Ladies Kid-lined Vici Kid lace Shoes, 10 inches high, coin toes and tips, straight soles. Double soles and low military belts. Union stamped. Price reduced from $3.00 to $2.45. Sizes 2 1/2 to 8, widths A to E.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

WILL TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Willis Martin will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

COUNTRY ORDERS SOLICITED.

We have no branch stores nor traveling salesmen.

NEWS about the WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Ebell of this city considers itself especially fortunate in having at last of work is done under the supervision secured Prof. Ernest F. Fenollosa in a of two ladies with whom the idea originated series of lectures on Japanese art. He noted, and until each piece of work is will lecture also before the students at approved by them it cannot be signed with the seal of the society. This seal is a blue flax wheel, with the hub replaced by the letter D, which is embroidered upon the white ground; upon a piece of blue linen work the coloring of the seal is naturally reversed, but whenever it is seen the seal enhances the commercial value of the embroidery it adorns, for it bears witness to the fine quality of the needlework, as well as to the artistic quality of the design. A quaint idea is to give to each design a name indicative of its origin. For instance, a lamp square will be labelled, "Betsey's Berries, wrought by Miss So-and-So." This piece received its name because the bunches of berries were duplicates of those which adorn a spread made by Miss Betsey Henry, more than a hundred years ago. One center piece is called, "Summer," and another "The Shell," while chairbacks are variously designated as "Peach Orchard," "The Basket," "Tulips," "Ring-a-Tig," and one even is introduced to the world as "Brussels Sprouts."

On Wednesday of this week the first lecture was given before Ebell, and two others are to follow—on Monday and Friday of next week. The first is to be held at 3:30 p. m., in order to give the school children an opportunity to hear this celebrated lecturer and authority on Japanese art, and the last one is to begin at 8 o'clock in the evening. This latter at the request of a large number of business and professional men who would not otherwise be able to attend.

These three lectures, which are to be illustrated, will cost Ebell exactly $200, and even at that figure, the ladies hope to net a large sum, for every cent of surplus is to go toward the furnishing of the Children's room in the new library.

THE BLUE AND WHITE SOCIETY OF DEERFIELD.

The Blue and White Society, of Deerfield, Mass., originated in the endeavor to preserve from the ravages of time the rare old handwoven curtains, bedspreads, and table linens belonging to the village museum. It was at first only intended to employ some of the village women to repair the damages that were gradually being made in some of the more frail materials. Then came the idea of duplicating the different pieces of needlework, and soon afterwards it was suggested that the work would be more interesting if, instead of making faithful copies of the old embroideries, each neediewoman was allowed to exercise her own ingenuity in adapting the old designs to the work she had in hand. Every piece she was expected to have made some talk, but it did not amount to anything.

When Miss Washington's father sent word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates, and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and Miss Washington and Professor Keyes, who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington enters the college as a special student, taking piano, theory, and modern languages. As a special student she is not actually entitled to rooms in the college yard. Many of the students at the college were among her classmates during her three years at the Framingham school. She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in Stone Hall.

NEW OCCUPATIONS FOR THE WORKING WOMAN.

We are accustomed to hear, from time to time, in various quarters, pleas, more or less eloquent, of the need of new occupations for women. Reading the screeds of some of these modern advocates of the rights of women to have occupation, and to have it in endless variety, one might be led to think that some kind of discrimination was practised against women in the matter of occupation. The fact is, however, that there never has been a time when occupation was so free to women as it is at present. In certain occupations, they have already crowded out their brothers, and they have a very fair representation in the professions, the crafts and the arts. Carrie Nation has created an entirely new and very artistic profession for women, that is not by any means overcrowded. We have had women machinists, women house-builders; women ranchmen, and a long line of intrusions by them in other occupations that were originally reserved for men. In the lines of work that are monopolized by women, the practitioners often have unusual privileges, but, not satisfied with concession after concession, the domestic servants of Chicago and vicinity are seeking by organization to compass the securance of still greater freedom from rules and regulations that would not be considered unreasonable by men in similar positions. It is growing to be time for the male heads of households to rise up and make some sort of an effort to assert the few lingering rights that remain to them, or it may be that the world will awake some morning to find femininity in absolute control, and the masculine occupations all gone. There is something to be said about new occupations for men, as in these latter days, notable for the activity of women in the tennis court, on the golf links and in athletics generally, she is growing more and more able to look out for herself and her occupation. Some of the best art work in bookbinding is now done by American women, and they have notable records as turkey raisers, horsebreeders, painters, sculptors, architects and in other directions, artistic and otherwise. In the matter of success in the world, sex no longer has much significance, nor for that matter has occupation, provided only that it be congenial—The Art Interchange.

According to the Daily Inter-Ocean the authorities of Wellesley College deny that the color line has been drawn by some of the students against Miss Portia Washington, daughter of Booker T. Washington. The story, it is said, originated in the fact that Miss Washington could not secure accommodations within the college yard. It is said that when it was first known that Miss Washington was to enter the college, one or two of the girls from the South who roomed in the hall where she was expected to live made some talk, but it did not amount to anything.

When Miss Washington's father sent word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and

Miss Washington and Professor Keyes,

who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington

enters the college as a special student,

taking piano, theory, and modern languages.

As a special student she is not actually entitled to rooms in the college yard.

Many of the students at the college

were among her classmates during her

three years at the Framingham school.

She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in

Stone Hall.

When Miss Washington's father sent

word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and

Miss Washington and Professor Keyes,

who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington

enters the college as a special student,

taking piano, theory, and modern languages.

As a special student she is not actually

entitled to rooms in the college yard.

Many of the students at the college

were among her classmates during her

three years at the Framingham school.

She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in

Stone Hall.

When Miss Washington's father sent

word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and

Miss Washington and Professor Keyes,

who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington

enters the college as a special student,

taking piano, theory, and modern languages.

As a special student she is not actually

entitled to rooms in the college yard.

Many of the students at the college

were among her classmates during her

three years at the Framingham school.

She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in

Stone Hall.

When Miss Washington's father sent

word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and

Miss Washington and Professor Keyes,

who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington

enters the college as a special student,

taking piano, theory, and modern languages.

As a special student she is not actually

entitled to rooms in the college yard.

Many of the students at the college

were among her classmates during her

three years at the Framingham school.

She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in

Stone Hall.

When Miss Washington's father sent

word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

and Miss Batch, all professors in the college, live directly opposite, and

Miss Washington and Professor Keyes,

who lives at Mrs. Brio's, take their meals with them. Miss Washington

enters the college as a special student,

taking piano, theory, and modern languages.

As a special student she is not actually

entitled to rooms in the college yard.

Many of the students at the college

were among her classmates during her

three years at the Framingham school.

She was one of the guests invited to attend the sophomore reception, one of the events of the college year. There is another negro young woman in college, Miss Charlotte A. Atwood, who lives within the college grounds in

Stone Hall.

When Miss Washington's father sent

word after the college opened that she would arrive on September 23d, it was found that there was no room for her

in the college yard, and room was secured in the house of Mrs. Brio in

the village. Miss Coman, Miss Bates,

In the Realm of Literature.

SOME NEW BOOKS THAT ARE INTERESTING THE CRITICS IN THE EAST AND WEST—REVIEWS ON THE WORK OF AUTHORS.

Clive Holland gave us something very clever in "My Japanese Wife." He did, to a certain degree, in prose what the author of "The Light of Asia" did in poetry—idealize the Japanese maiden. Mousme was the heroine of "My Japanese Wife," and she is no less the prevailing personality in this story to which the author has given her name. The present volume recounts, as the author says, the further doings of the little lady in connection with her English sister-in-law in English life.

The author has displayed a great deal of sensibility in the description of the heroine. She has attained to the age of maturity, and yet she is considered as a being whose simplicity has the guilelessness of childhood and the gentleness of a being of some supernatural sphere. The husband watches her every move, the expression of her features, the glances of her eyes as she sees some strange object for the first time or witnesses an act which is not in the routine of life in her island home.

Mon. 1600; Tues. 1700; Wed. 1800; Thur.

The book opens with the departure of Mousme and her husband from Japan while the latter recalls the prophecy of a Japanese to the effect that Mousme would not be pleased with life in England, but, to this the spouse replied by saying that he loved the little one and for that reason he had married her.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years. At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife. Still she refuses to name him as his wife.

Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Mousme is introduced to her sister-in-law, Lou, whom the husband feared would not take kindly to the little flower from beyond the sea. The meeting was uneventful, although the sister gave no indication of lack of appreciation of the bride. In describing Mousme's entrance to a drawing room, Mr. Holland draws this pretty picture.

"Mousme advanced into the vast room, like some strange, beautiful night moth; silently, save for the soft rustling of her silken draperies, which stimulated the quick vibration of dragon flies' wings. In

Again, in speaking of some of the exotic's charms, he says:

"Mousme's smile reminded me in England of sunshine on a field of ripe corn; in Japan, of the brilliant patch of light which used to flicker on the under side of our veranda from the surface of the little pond in the garden with its fringe of purple and lavender-tinted iris when the gold fish nibbling at the weeds or mouthing the ark vacantly in search of unwary flies, disturbed its tranquility."

One evening Mousme, before retiring, found prostrate before a little cabinet in which is a figure of what she called the Goddess of Mercy. This is the cause of a little friction between the husband and his sister.

"The little figure," he writes, "was murmuring something and did not turn as I softly closed the door and crossed the carpeted floor. I thought I heard the words 'little home,' and knew what Mousme was praying about. A sense of homesickness had smitten her at last. Perhaps a sadness dwelt at times in her gay heart. It was painful for me to think of it. But then it could easily be remedied, at least in part. I would, as soon as possible, see some agent and carry her off to that ideal home I had in my mind's eye in Devon. There was something so simple in Mousme's deceptions, and yet, as I watched the kneeling figure now at last, most prostrate when she bent over her folded hands, now quite silent again, I remembered that this same little shrine before which light rings of incense were ascending, stirred by draughts of air from the open window, was the one object in our room that had aroused Lou's (his sister's) ire and contempt. 'Heathenish,' she had called this tiny, brightly-painted shrine.

And, in the full assurance of her own belief as established by law, she had exhort me to Jordib Mousme's child-like orisons to this Goddess of Mercy, in whose benefice she placed such implicit trust.

"Lou" threatens to inform the vicar if the 'heathenish' practice is not discontinued by the husband's orders, whereupon the husband declares:

"I shall do nothing of the kind, would not destroy Mousme's religion for you or all the vicars in the universe. What have you, a society but terribly, with half a dozen social gods to give her better?"

This little friction, however, wears away and an ideal existence is enjoyed. Mousme and her husband living as lovers, the former receiving the individual devotion of her charmed spouse. The book is in green and silver. It

GOULDIN ARROW.

"The Golden Arrow" is a tale which is a strange mixture of colonial and royalist themes, set in incidents. It gives an insight to the colony of Massachusetts when Boston was an aggregation of log huts and when Indians at war with the settlers.

The conflict is waged with relentless vigor on both sides, and Markham is permitted to do a great many deeds of bravery and heroism which have a telling effect upon the situation.

Markham's trouble, however, does not come to an end. Persecution follows and then comes a cruel, revengeful and bloody war between whites and Indians, which ends in a massacre of the settlers which are known to have been experienced at that time.

The conflict is waged with relentless vigor on both sides, and Markham is permitted to do a great many deeds of bravery and heroism which have a telling effect upon the situation.

Markham finds the former friend of his father, delivers his commission, and finds tarty appreciation from the survivor of the earlier injury. Markham sees Charles I, and then sees James II, who is at the time only boy. He at length returns to America, joins Roger Williams in Rhode Island and later helps to defend the Quakers against persecution in Boston.

The story is of extreme interest. It tells of a most forcible impression upon the minds of young people for whom it is intended as regards the trying vicissitudes of the early settlers of this country, which were intensified by the persecution to which many were subjected because they worshipped at altars other than those of the people who happened to be dominant in this or that locality.

The author of "The Black Gown," the author of "The Blue Days of Old," the "Boys of Schubert," etc. It is finely illustrated and sells for $1.25. It is published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

PARSONS.

"Pearson's Magazine" for November contains a "Real Ghost Story, a host of most entertaining sketches and a wealth of illustrations. It is published in East Nineteenth street, New York City.

He gives credence to the story at length, more especially because he is solemnly assured that Williams is to be brought immediately to Boston and thence departed to England, consigned to the tender mercies of Archbishop Laud and his meetings against such heretics as well known.

Richard is further informed that a man named Underhill has already been dispatched by boat to Salem for the purpose of seizing Williams and taking him away at the earliest possible moment.

Markham immediately decides to an- ticipate Underhill and going over land to inform the young preacher of the fate which awaits him.

Markham informs his father, who is

SELECTED NOTES FOR WOMEN.

(Continued From Page 9.)

is published by the Frederick A. Stokes Company, New York, and retails at $1.50. It may be procured at Smith Brothers, corner of Twelfth and Washington streets.

PHILIP BROOK HOWELL.

"Philbrook Howell" by Albert Kinross comes in a pretty cover of crimson and gold, as a detailed life of a young literary man, whom the author accompanied almost from infancy to the end of marriage and courtship.

The life of the author, his school and college life, are pleasantly described. The hero went the way of all young simpletons, falling in love for no earthly reason whatever and tumbling down. He completes his education and decides to follow the profession of literature. A successful literary man encourages him, and the aspirant sends his first manuscript to the literary who early advises him to burn it. In despair, he sends the story to a newspaper, willing to accept anything which may be offered for it. The story is accepted but only a pittance is paid for it.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.

Still she refuses to name him as his wife. Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.

Still she refuses to name him as his wife. Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.

Still she refuses to name him as his wife. Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.

Still she refuses to name him as his wife. Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.

Still she refuses to name him as his wife. Still he becomes that he screams with emotion whereupon she reveals that he is an armchair. Then he confesses his efforts to become an author and the hopelessness of his ever being able to give his wife any life save that of a drudge. She tells at him like a shrew and lashes him with the severity of a fury.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

This is followed by a flood of tears which cannot, however, drown the self-reproach which assails her. Howell goes to the house of friend, the lady of the kisses meets him there. He strives to be alone, to drive her away, but she fascinates him and leaves him, away from the home of his former fiancee and the tale closes with the two clasped in each other's arms.

Howell is dead. Finding that he can stay nothing to stop his mother, the woman boldly proclaims that she is already engaged to another. She stands between him and the door. He throws her aside and rushes out, seemingly heart-broken. Her mother comes in, finds her crying and is informed by the daughter that Howell has been there and jilted her. The mother informs her that Howell's aunt has died and in his grief at the loss of his parent causes the daughter's tears to dry for a moment as do in the heat of accusation that she is a liar and a fool.

Again, the young author strives and again a story is accepted which is not very satisfactory results. The "Love" fails in love, becomes engaged and continues in love during his struggling years.

At a certain gathering of acquaintances, one day, he forgets his old love, temporarily at least, to kiss and be kissed passionately by another girl and to this girl, for some time, he pays devoted attention.

He recovers from this infatuation, however, and goes back to his first love. He is anxious to make his day of marriage but she evades the request. He becomes excited even frenzied, and decking that she must marry him and that no other person on earth will ever claim her as his wife.